

Mentors for 2022 GASP Mentorship Luncheon at SPSP
12:30-1:30 PM EST February 18, 2022

GASP is the GLBT Alliance in Social and Personality Psychology, an affiliate of SPSP. GASP events are supported by the Diversity and Climate Committee of SPSP. GASP events are open to all students, faculty, and other professionals, regardless of research interest, sexual orientation, or gender identity and expression. Allies are especially welcome.

Session chairs: Lisa G. Aspinwall, University of Utah, Ryan Lei, Haverford College, and Sa-Kiera Hudson, Gail University

Patrick Doyle, SiriusXM + Pandora (VIRTUAL)
Translating Academic Research to Industry Applications

Jin X. Goh, Colby College (VIRTUAL)
Getting a Job at a SLAC (Small Liberal Arts College)

Maureen Craig, NYU (VIRTUAL)
Managing the Transition to Being a PI

Jeffrey Hunger & Teri Kirby (VIRTUAL)
So You Want to Get a Postdoc

Thekla Morgenroth, Purdue University (VIRTUAL)
Researching Issues Faced by Trans and Non-Binary People

Clayton Critcher, University of California, Berkeley (VIRTUAL)
Lessons on Navigating the Publication Process from an AE at JPSP

Lisa Diamond, University of Utah (VIRTUAL)
Community-Based Research

--- IN PERSON

Sa-Kiera Hudson, Yale University, & Ryan Lei, Haverford College
Bringing Intersectionality into Psychology

Nick Rule, University of Toronto
Double Jeopardy: First-Generation Sexual Minority Scholars

Lynn Carol Miller, University of Southern California
Grant Writing: How to Write (and Get) Grants

Tessa Dover, Portland State University
Teaching & Mentoring Gender-Diverse & Queer Undergrads

Nic Weststrate, University of Illinois Chicago
Applying to Jobs & Interviewing: Sell Yourself, Not Your Soul

Teri Kirby, Purdue
To Post-Doc or Not to Post-Doc

Tabea Hässler, University of Zürich/McGill University
Leading Large-Scale Research Projects

Laura King, University of Missouri
An Open Conversation with Your President Aunt Laura

Luis Rivera, Rutgers
Tips for Successful Academic and Non-Academic Job Interviews

Sarah Mancoll, SPSSI
Using Your Psychology Expertise to Inform Public Policy