

Mentors for 2023 GASP Mentorship Luncheon at SPSP
February 24, 2023

GASP is the GLBTQ+ Alliance in Social and Personality Psychology, an affiliate of SPSP. GASP events and membership are open to all students, faculty, and other professionals, regardless of research interest, sexual orientation, or gender identity and expression. Allies are especially welcome.

Session chairs: Lisa G. Aspinwall, University of Utah; Ryan Lei, Haverford College; Sa-Kiera Hudson, Haas School of Business, UC Berkeley

1. Clayton Critcher, University of California, Berkeley

Navigating the Publication Process: What I Learned as an AE at JPSP

2. Tessa Dover, Portland State University

Life at an R2 University

3. Ryan Lei, Haverford College

The SLACademic Life: Research and Teaching at a Small Liberal Arts College

4. Sa-Kiera Tierra Jolynn Hudson, University of California, Berkeley

Incorporating Intersectionality into Psychology

5. Jeffrey Hunger, Miami University

So You Want to Get a Postdoc

6. Lynn Carol Miller, University of Southern California

Grant Writing: How to Write (and Get) Grants

7. James Dunlea (virtual), Walgreens

Translating Academic Research to Industry Applications

8. Nic Weststrate, University of Illinois Chicago

Queer Researchers Queerly Researching Queer People: Navigating Self-Relevance, Positionality, and Triple Marginality in Your Scholarship

9. Maureen Craig, New York University

Managing Yourself (& Others) While on the Tenure Track

10. Teri Kirby, Purdue University

Navigating Academic Systems in Different Countries

11. Lisa G. Aspinwall, University of Utah & Steve Rouse, Pepperdine University

Faculty (and Future Faculty) Discussion Table